October has arrived at Spruce Home Public School, bringing with it the beauty of autumn and many opportunities for learning and growth. As the leaves change color and the weather becomes cooler, our students have settled into their routines and are demonstrating enthusiasm for learning both inside and outside the classroom.

September was a wonderful start to the school year. It has been rewarding to see students reconnect with friends, build relationships with staff, and embrace new learning experiences. We would like to thank our families for their support in helping students make a positive transition back to school.

As we move further into the school year, our focus remains on supporting student achievement in mathematics, literacy, land-based learning, and Exploratory Play-Based Learning (EPBL). We encourage families to continue supporting learning at home by reading together, discussing real-world math situations, and taking time to talk about what students are learning at school.

October is also a time to reflect on gratitude and community. As Thanksgiving approaches, we encourage students to think about the people, places, and experiences they are thankful for. We are grateful for the strong partnerships we share with our families and community members who help make Spruce Home Public School a welcoming and supportive place for all learners.

The fall season provides excellent opportunities for outdoor learning. Students will continue to participate in land-based learning activities when possible, so please ensure they come dressed appropriately for changing weather conditions. A warm jacket, proper footwear, and outdoor clothing help students remain comfortable while enjoying learning experiences outside.

Attendance continues to be one of the most important factors in student success. Regular attendance helps students stay connected to their learning, their classmates, and their school community. Thank you for making attendance a priority and for communicating with the school when your child is unable to attend.

On behalf of the entire staff, thank you for your continued support and partnership. We look forward to another month of growth, learning, and memorable experiences with our students.

-Mr. Feschuk
